Chemical Users Safety Awareness Training Online Course

Overview

The purpose of this training is to help to clarify the requirements around managing hazardous substances (chemicals) in the workplace to reduce the chance of injury. This course provides an in-depth understanding of workplace hazardous substances as per the Victorian Compliance Code for Hazardous Substances and Safe Work Australia Guidance. It is designed to help businesses meet compliance requirements, protect worker health, and minimize chemical-related risks. You will gain knowledge of control measures, risk assessment procedures, and how to safety store and use chemicals in the workplace. While it won't make you an expert in chemicals, it will provide a foundational knowledge to help you identify workplace hazards and meet employer obligations.

Who should complete the course?

- Business owners
- Managers and supervisors
- Health and safety representatives (HSRs)
- Occupational health and safety (OHS) professionals
- Workers who are exposed to chemicals or use chemicals in the workplace
